ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

From the teachings of the Man of Praise ﷺ is his saying, “He who does not thank the people does not thank Allah.” It is in that vein that I eulogise those many individuals who have contributed to my scholastic journey and to the release of this work.

All praise ultimately belongs to Allah, alone. His sovereignty is uppermost and He has no partner. It is through the blessings of Allah that I have been able to bring this book to the world, a book dedicated to studying a story taught to us by Allah Himself. May Allah be pleased with my efforts.

With that in mind, I would like to express gratitude for my parents. Their labours of unconditional love throughout the years have helped me reach a position in which I am able to produce a work such as this. Ya‘qūb’s love for Yūsuf ﷺ exemplifies a parental bond that transcends the ages. I only hope that I am able to repay their kindnesses with enough kindnesses of my own so that Allah counts me among those who are excellent to their parents.

Academia comes with its strains and unpredictability. Sharing the burden of all this—with unflinching warmth, patience, and majesty—is my wife, Umm ‘Abdillāh, whom I cherish dearly. Both her and our children, who bring joy to our hearts, deserve acknowledgement and gratitude for their contributions and support. Likewise my two beloved sisters—Allah honour and bless them. Their selfless sacrifices and their unabating encouragement will never be forgotten.

Beyond that, my teachers, colleagues, and students fill the halls of campuses, libraries, and mosques with earnest zeal. My teachers have long stressed the need for independent thought, for a break from blind dogmatism, and for being exceptional in all our endeavours. My students have helped me with logistics, with motivation, and with their fantastic contributions along the way. Their passion and intelligence draws great optimism for the future of this ummah. I would like to take this opportunity to thank all of them.

Shaykh Yusuf Ja'far Idris, Usman Ali, Mohammed Mughal, Mohammed Arshad Ali, Aadil Ali, Azhar Safwan, and the Bhaijee family were instrumental in bringing this work to fruition. I would like to express my warm thanks and gratitude to them. Coupled with their efforts are those of the many institutions that support my vision of a world of ignited communities that benefit humanity. In particular, AlKauthar Institute, Mercy Mission World, Knowledge International University, New Muslim Academy, Muslim Research and Development Foundation (MRDF), The Islamic Council, Islamic Finance Advisory, and Family Events.

I would like to thank the team at Quillspire for their support throughout this project. Their handling of the administrative and logistical aspects of publishing allowed me to complete this work which I had hoped to complete many years ago. Their attention to detail coupled with their fervour for authenticity makes them a welcome addition to our scholastic legacy. This project marks the inaugural launch of Quillspire Ltd as a publishing house. Based on my interactions with the team, I cannot help but feel that Quillspire will soon be a household name synonymous with publishing excellence.

Finally, I would like to thank the esteemed reader and all students of the Glorious Qur'an. As our teachers taught us: al-Qur'ānu raḥmun bayna ahlih—"The Qur'an is a fraternity full of compassion among its members." It is an honour to share this book with you. I hope that you pray for me, that you find benefit in this work, and that you forgive me for any mistakes you find in it—exalted be He who never errs. May Allah make us all among His specially chosen folk: the Folk of the Qur'an. Āmīn.

Shaykh Dr. Sajid Umar
